

ANONYMOUS
APRIL 17, 2013

Brand

Importance of brand in attracting and inspiring participants - some institutions using CLL as name of their own initiatives

ANONYMOUS
APRIL 17, 2013

Co-development

Working with new people to develop events and programmes in new ways

ANONYMOUS
APRIL 17, 2013

John

Avoid duplication of effort

ANONYMOUS
APRIL 17, 2013

Working together

Setting aside self-interest of Partners.
Creating bespoke interventions rather than working to a fixed plan
Enthusiasm beyond contractual obligations

ANONYMOUS
APRIL 17, 2013

Tensions between agencies

Now resolved!

ANONYMOUS
APRIL 17, 2013

New approach to innovative enhancements

ANONYMOUS
APRIL 17, 2013

Patsy

Forming new relationships within institutions

ANONYMOUS
APRIL 17, 2013

sharing each others resourcees

ANONYMOUS
APRIL 17, 2013

Patsy Eureka Moments

Within projects - eg I'll never write a lecture like that again

DAVEOWHITE
APRIL 17, 2013

Connecting to more than one community

Dave White

ANONYMOUS
APRIL 17, 2013

Chris Y

Find new ways to use resources and expertise developed for other people/purposes

ANONYMOUS
APRIL 17, 2013

Reaching diverse audiences and engaging wider community. Attracting audiences rather than beating a path to their door.

ANONYMOUS
APRIL 17, 2013

Efficiencies

Economies of scale

Extended reach

110 institutions engaged (approx 90%) - high hit rate

ANONYMOUS
APRIL 17, 2013

Myles

Light touch bidding makes for wide involvement

ANONYMOUS
APRIL 17, 2013

Step change

Working in partnership is a step change in cross sector working.

ANONYMOUS
APRIL 17, 2013

Leveraging and building collaborative resources - greater than us of individual components

ANONYMOUS
APRIL 17, 2013

Mindset perspectives different mindsets from participating organisations quite unique

ANONYMOUS
APRIL 17, 2013

Glyn

Give participants a wider view of their role

ANONYMOUS
APRIL 17, 2013

Glyn

Include relevant knowledge

ANONYMOUS
APRIL 17, 2013

Sue Thompson

A will to make things happen collectively greater than individual

ANONYMOUS
APRIL 17, 2013

Melissa

Engaging students as agents of change

LAWRIE
APRIL 17, 2013

What do we do well when we work together?

ANONYMOUS
APRIL 17, 2013

Strand 1 Webinars

LFHE Upskilled by Jisc and V effective

ANONYMOUS
APRIL 17, 2013

Sue

Developmental opportunities dealing with partnerships for all concerned

ANONYMOUS
APRIL 17, 2013

Amanda/ Jess

Bouncing ideas off each other, benefitting from others' knowledge and expertise.

The less visible problems come out of the woodwork e.g students who are purposely disengaged with technology and are seen to be proliferating elsewhere.

ANONYMOUS
APRIL 17, 2013

Joh

avoid duplication of effort

ANONYMOUS
APRIL 17, 2013

Thinking in a creative way in a very short timescale

ANONYMOUS
APRIL 17, 2013

Melissa

Open process developed as trust occurs

ANONYMOUS
APRIL 17, 2013

Melissa

Oh shit moments transformed into wow moments!

ANONYMOUS
APRIL 17, 2013

Sue

Identifying synergies across partners and participants

DAVEOWHITE
APRIL 17, 2013

Discovering that issues are broadly similar across HE institutions.

Dave White

ANONYMOUS
APRIL 17, 2013

Myles

Highlighting Cross Partner Association Resources

ANONYMOUS
APRIL 17, 2013

Sue Thompson

Fantastic Reach beyond Usual suspects

ANONYMOUS
APRIL 17, 2013

Patsy

Validating efforts through benchmarking against other institutions
